DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

2. Claims 16-20 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Cox et al., US 2003/0123452 A1 (hereafter referred to as Cox).

3. Regarding claim 16, Cox taught a system for packet classification (abstract), comprising:

a pre-processor to receive a packet header of an incoming packet, the packet header including a field, and to assign an associated identifier to the field (classification destination identifier, DID, paragraph 26);

a first memory device, the first memory device including a first set of binary patterns (pattern tree data structure 28, paragraph 29);

a second memory device, the second memory device including a second set of binary patterns (virtual tree data structure 30, paragraph 29);

third memory device, the third memory device including instructions for applying one of the first and second sets of binary patterns to the associated identifier assigned to the field of the incoming packet (rules, paragraph 29); and a processor to apply the instructions to the field to match the field to one of the patterns in the first set of binary patterns or second set of binary patterns (routing/switching processor 14, paragraph 26).

4. Regarding dependent claim 17, Cox taught the field is a network address (paragraph 27).
5. Regarding dependent claim 18, Cox taught further comprising: a fourth memory device, the fourth memory device including a result corresponding to a matched pattern received from the processor (matched destination values, paragraph 34).
6. Regarding dependent claim 19, Cox taught further comprising: means for determining priority among one or more matched patterns (prioritized rules, paragraph 28).
7. The language of claim 20 is substantially the same as previously rejected claim 16. Therefore, claim 20 is rejected on the same rationale as previously rejected claim 16, above.

Allowable Subject Matter

8. Claims 21-36 are allowed.
9. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance: the prior art fails to teach or suggestion an instruction decoder that suspends operations for one set of processing elements and restarts operations for that set of processing elements as argued by Applicant in the reply filed on January 11, 2007.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."

Response to Arguments

10. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 16-20 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Conclusion

11. Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to Patrice Winder whose telephone number is 571-272-3935. The examiner can normally be reached on Monday-Friday, 10:30 am-7:00 pm.
